Kristen Wong
Media Relations Specialist

Kristen Wong, 30, is the media relations specialist for Home Box Office, Inc., a premium cable and satellite television network. She joined the company in 2014, intrigued by HBO's position as one of the foremost companies in innovative storytelling.

Wong graduated from Syracuse University with a degree in marketing and public relations. After graduating, she attended Columbia University to earn an MBA and a master's degree in strategic communications. Wong has worked for a number of media organizations in public relations and communications roles, such as Sony, NBCUniversal and The New York Times.

Wong is passionate about spreading awareness about prominent issues facing society, including issues in education, equality, business and government. She believes that storytelling through all channels of media can make a difference. Wong enjoys reading books, travelling and learning as much as possible about the world. She hopes to continue being active in the media industry in such a dynamic age.
